JEFF GERBER

Jeff Gerber brings over two decades of leadership development experience to organizations across North America. Recognized as a National Leader of Distinction by the Canadian Student Leadership Association and a member of the Canadian Association of Professional Speakers, Jeff helps organizations solve the crisis of high turnover, burnout, and lack of connection caused by a weak workplace culture.

Jeff is an entertaining and engaging speaker with experience presenting at international, national, regional and local conferences, TEDx, to service and professional organizations, schools, camps, retreats, and more.

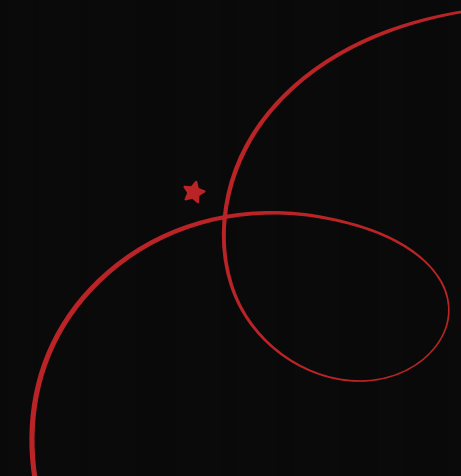

Building belonging through implementing the 'Belonging Blueprint™' is the key to retain top talent, boost productivity, and increase employee and customer satisfaction. Jeff will help you build an organization where people are seen, heard, valued, and show up as their best selves every day.

Testimonials

Jeff I wanted to let you know how much I appreciated your presentation. My husband and I just bought our first home and we are about to move and "start over" in a new and unfamiliar town with our two young kids so a lot of the messages you were sharing resonated with me and the upcoming adventure I know we will experience. As well, my husband has been hard at work on some renovations at the house before we move in and you've inspired me to really love on him and show him how much he is appreciated. So, thank you!"

Jeff did an outstanding job as our keynote speaker for our annual "kick off" event!! Jeff was super engaging and fun to listen to. The message was perfect for our team, he tied it into our organization nicely and I know we will remember what he said for years to come. Thank you Jeff, so happy you could join and inspire us!"

Your message of Belonging is so important in today's society. At a time when we can connect with anyone anywhere, people are lonelier than ever before. Face to face, personal connection is what we need to get back to. As I reflect, I loved the idea of looking at our staff list and seeing who I haven't connected with lately. I need to do that as an administrator with my staff. I have set that as a goal this year and will use your tool."

Jeff understands the art of story-telling to develop an inspirational message for students. He connected with 1000 students and staff and got them engaged. Now our students have a powerful reminder to help those around them belong!"
